The Perfect Gift For Every Type Of Dad This Father's Day

Father's Day is quickly approaching and year after year, the day is continually defined by the gifts, activities and other ways we choose to celebrate our dads.

Each dad is unique in his own right, so there are many ways to celebrate the tech dad, athletic dad, stylish dad, foodie dad, Hamptons dad and, last but not least, the ultimate cool dad.

With so many kinds of fathers out there, finding the right gifts to celebrate them can be a bit challenging, exhausting and pricey (depending on what he likes). But whatever you decide to get your type of dad, he'll love it.

And that's because what every type of dad has in common is an unconditional love for his kid(s).

Take a look below at different gift ideas to celebrate the six different kind of dads this Father's Day:

The Foodie Dad.

If your dad loves to eat, this is the perfect chance to treat him to a cool experience and a unique Father's Day meal in NYC! SRO Speakeasy Pizzeria, Wild Horse Tavern and Church Street Tavern all have something awesome for Dad this year.

The only hard part will be deciding which one to choose.

Church Street Tavern was recently named one of NYC's best burgers by Grub Street and Bloomberg.com and will be serving their now-infamous burger. What better Father's Day gift is there than taking Dad to try one of the best burgers in the city?

Or, if you simply want to give him a gift that he can reuse, you can give him the new Riedel O BYO Bag.

Stocked with four of the finest wine tools – Riedel's stemless "O" Pinot Noir glasses – and space for a regular sized bottle of wine, the BYO Bag gives Dad the freedom to bring his Os on the go for all of his wining and dining adventures.

The Hamptons Dad.

Give Dad the gift of indulgence at Topping Rose House's Father's Day Pig Roast on Sunday, June 21.
