f Like 0

Tribeca restaurant Church Street Tavern (313 Church St.) invited special guests to experience what all the fuss is about on Wednesday during an exclusive burger tasting. The Tavern Burger was named one of NYC's Best New Burgers and one of the 50 Most Important Burgers by New York Magazine's Grubstreet, in addition to being called one of the Five Best New Cheeseburgers in New York by Bloomberg Business. The famed entrée begins with a brioche bun liberally spread with caramelized onion-bacon jam, and packed with a dry-aged blend of strip, rib-eye, Wagyu, and beef heart. Melted cheddar and arugula complement the tasty, eight-ounce burger, which is served with fresh-cut fries. Wednesday's tasting also included delicious wild mushroom spaetzli, vegetarian options, and unlimited cocktails from Church Street Tavern's extensive drink menu. The restaurant offers $1 oysters, $6 red and white wine, $4 tavern fries, and other deals during Happy Hour (Monday-Friday, 5 p.m. to 7 p.m.), and also has a speakeasy lounge (Bandit's Roost) that is open Thursday through Saturday nights.
